Paula: I live in the area and I am here very often enjoying this park. I've only lived here for about 3 to 4 years, but I have met people who have lived together here their whole lives and people who have created this area into a community and given to the community and those are the people that should be honored.

Barb: City Council needs to reopen the discussion so local residents can participate in the process - it's only fair.

Carol: The people who have lived in Regent Park should have a voice and be heard. The renaming of the park should absolutely be in consultation with the past and present residents! Preserve the last bit of history of the original Regent Park!

Don: This market means nothing to politicians, but it does mean something to the community. I no longer live in the community, but I support them with my voice.

Beth: I have lived in the neighbourhood for 20 years so I'm puzzled as to why I was not notified about the naming of the park until I read about it in the Star. No Chris Moise. You did not do your job.

Tangerine: I was born and raised in the Moss Park area and went to school at Nelson Mandela Park Public School (formerly Park School), right across the street from the park we've always called Stinky Park. This name, while humorous to some, holds deep meaning and memories for many of us who grew up here. It's part of the neighborhood's history and identity. It's disheartening to see decisions—like renaming the park—made without genuine consultation with the people who actually live here and have shaped this community for decades. Gentrification shouldn't erase our voices or our stories. The community deserves the right to be involved in decisions that affect its shared spaces. Please give us the opportunity to be heard and to help shape the future of a place that already means so much to us.

Peter: That was the first park I ever played in back in the 60s. My dad Steve Necheff was on the early years of the Tefann Court Commitee when they started the Neiborhood improvements way back then. 2 years ago, I took my son too Stinkies park and he loved the old, tall swings and I told him I rode that same swing 50 years before.

Stephen: There is no good reason for not including or consulting the local community is the decision of renaming the park

Teresa: This park is apart of alot of our lives, its where kids went to get away for a bit and not worry about life and what's going on around the,giving the name of the park to someone who hasn't been apart of it or the surrounding area is wrong. Just because this guy tried to get rid of guns in DIFFERENT areas which didn't work there is more guns out there now then ever before, doesnt make him a hero, also the one that's trying to rename it knows what their trying to do is WRONG

Gayle: There are many "hometown hero's" that this park can be named after - advocates who have strong ties to the old Regent Park and the new Regent Park. Naming it after someone who actually impacted THIS neighbourhood makes it more meaningful and legendary for all who will play there in the years to come.

Murray: Thanks ... should be named Trefann Park

Allan: Long live Regent Park Warriors !!!!

Integrity: Another con job by Chris Moise. He got away with erasing Dundas Square without public consult so feels emboldened to pull a fast one on Trefann Court. Everybody should be up in arms about this.

George: Moise is quite arrogant and needs to start listening to his constituents instead of forcing name changes down their throats that no one wants amor asked for.

Belinda: Stinkys park should live on ya took everything else from Regent Park leave something the same

Murray: Community consultation is very important

Trevor: Aside from the fact that this park should have been reopened and complete over a year ago, the name of the park should not change and should only ever be called Stinky's. Stop trying to change the wheel, the wheel is just fine :) 0 likes

Karl: Should be Silverstone park, my grandfather played and help build that park the Silverstone family has helped and gave back. And is still around doing so

Richard: Let the neighbourhood decide which names would be chosen for their neighbourhood.

Adrianna: I'm signing to support my friend and everyone from Regent Park. The people who grew up there should have a say in what the new name will be. It's their home, their history, and their voice that matters most.

Lynn: This is Trefann Court's only public park, but was renamed without consulting Trefann Court residents. The process was flawed and insulting to the people who live in Trefann Court and, like me, use the park regularly (at least before the City closed it for over a year). Trefann Court has its own distinct history, separate from Regent Park. When I discuss with my neighbours, they all believe, as I do, that Regent Park ends at Shuter St and does not include Trefann Court. City of Toronto way finding signage show Trefann Court as a distinct neighborhood. In the past Trefann Court residents stood up to City Hall and established the consultative approach the City adopted when proposing changes. It's sadly ironic that Councillor Moise and City Council chose our neighbourhood to ignore during this renaming process. Maybe including us in the process would have resulted in the same name choice, but we'll never know. Maybe another of the many public parks actually IN Regent Park could have been chosen to honour Mr March instead. Or the Regent Park Community Center. Or a park in Scarborough, where Mr March lived...Maybe Mr. March's family would prefer his name not to be attached to a park that the locals call "Stinky's". Overall, Councillor Moise doesn't seem to have an understanding of the neighbourhoods in his Ward, which I guess will be reflected in the next Municipal election.

Diane: Stinky's park should be named after a Regent Park-er. thousands of us have left the park, but the park will never leave us. I got my first kiss in that park when I was 11 years old.

Walter: I agree Mr. March should be remembered and honoured, but should it be there? I disagree with the process and the go ahead without local consultation. I personally feel that that little Park, which we called Stinky's, should be named after a Parker.. Regent Park is no more, but it lives on in the memories of us. The new generations of Regent Park should know some of it's beginnings. I feel that Bud McCormick should be named for the many reasons most of us all know. I'll leave it to the people who know him best to speak on all the efforts he made for the kids of Regent Park. I am of the opinion that a Parker should be named for that little piece of land that remains, to remind everyone that it takes a village to raise a child. One Parker was named .. North Regent Pool That was demolished and rebuilt, the name lost to history .. Jodie Phillips ... A chance to name a Parker ... Bud McCormick or many others ... So that History and Toronto does not forget the Golden Years OF Regent Park !

Wayne: City Hall should stop erasing history changing the name of everything helps nobody

Nyteasha: Just gives us what we want
